INDUS Part of the Winning ESN, Inc. Team for the NSWC Port Hueneme Division Combat System Operational Sequencing System Support Services Contract

San Diego, CA-January 2015: San Diego, CA January 2015: INDUS Technology Inc. was notified by its prime contractor Engineering Services Network Inc. (ESN, Inc.), that our team had been awarded the Combat System Operational Sequencing System (CSOSS) Support Services Contract issued by NSWC Port Hueneme Division. This award represents INDUS' first contract exposure within the Air Dominance Department at NSWC Port Hueneme Division. The work on this contract focuses on engineering and technical services required to provide combat system documentation support to the U.S. Navy's ships, shore activities and land based test sites. INDUS' initial contract performance under this work will take place in the Norfolk, VA area.

"This award represents INDUS' first contract exposure within the Air Dominance Department at NSWC PHD and also furthers INDUS' existing presence in the Eastern Region, specifically Norfolk, VA. We are very excited to assist our prime contractor ESN, Inc. in performing this critical effort," said Eric MacGregor, Senior Vice President.

"INDUS has been working for several years to establish a presence within the Air Dominance Code at NSWC PHD and we are very pleased to have the opportunity to support such an important customer and requirement as a subcontractor to ESN, Inc. I am thrilled that our employee's superior performance has given us the edge to begin supporting this very important effort", said James Lasswell, President/CEO.
